

ABOUT RUBI HO

Rubi Ho is a well-regarded strategic and organizational executive coach and consultant, celebrated author, and founder and architect of the Strategic, Agile & Organizational Consultant (SAOL™) methodology and consultant certification program. With an extensive background in organizational management, curriculum design, strategic leadership and executive coaching; Rubi has devoted his career to pioneering leadership platforms that transform the way organizations communicate, collaborate, and lead.

Logging over 40,000 consulting hours “in the trenches” with companies and their leaders, Rubi has pioneered leadership and executive coaching and certification programs that have changed the way organizations lead. As creator of the Strategic, Agile and Organizational Leadership (SAOL) methodology and certification program, Rubi has personally worked with over 70+ different organizations transcending industry, size, company structure and geographic location.

Using SAOL and other custom consulting approaches, Rubi has helped organizations move from states of “divergence” to “convergence” by helping them strive towards organizational health and optimum performance- critical components to achieving personal and corporate success while charting a clear course for competitive advantage.

A published author, Rubi has shared these leadership concepts while chronicling his own life story as a survivor escaping Saigon, one day before its fall.
